MEMORANDUM TO: Director of Training

FROM : Chief, Plans and Policy Staff

SUBJECT : Courses of Instruction Pertaining to the Federal Bureau of Investigation

1. In reviewing the courses of instruction offered by the CIA Intelligence School and also the topics presented during the 5th CIA Orientation Course, it was noted that in neither instance was there any course designed to explain the organization and functions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and its relationship with CIA.

2. The character of the operations of both the FBI and CIA are unique in their respective fields of responsibility. The mission, organization, and functions of the FBI as contrasted with those of CIA is a subject which would be a valuable addition to the various training programs.

3. Therefore, it is recommended that:

- a. A topic entitled the "Organization and Functions of the FBI" be included in future CIA orientation courses. (The Director of the FBI, or one of his deputies, might be invited to make the presentation. The topic should include a discussion of the mission of the FBI in contrast to the CIA mission; the counter-intelligence activities of the FBI; and the nature of the working relationship between the FBI and CIA.)
- b. A complete course of instruction explaining the mission, organization, and functions of the FBI and the working relationship between the FBI and CIA be incorporated into the curriculum of the CIA Intelligence School.

4. In the event these recommendations are accepted, this Staff is prepared to assist the Chief of the Orientation and Briefing Division and the head of the CIA Intelligence in developing the proposed courses of instruction.
